North American International Livestock Exposition Approved to Hold 2020 Show

WHAT

The North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE) was approved through the Kentucky Healthy at Work initiative to host a modified show this year. NAILE is the largest all-breed, purebred livestock exposition in the world and runs Nov. 3-19, 2020 at the Kentucky Exposition Center.

NAILE will enact new policies to help prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Changes include:

- Attendance will be restricted to participants creating a significant reduction in those on-site.
- Participants will complete a COVID-19 health waiver and events will be spread throughout the facility.
- The 2020 North American Championship Rodeo and the Country Store are canceled and will return next year.
- 2020 School Tours are canceled but will return in 2021.
- Livestock will be housed across more than 750,000 sq. ft. of space.
- For the full list of changes as of September 18th, visit our homepage at livestockexpo.org/.
